- No milk discard required

Conditioning formula for use as an aid to reduce udder discomfort — udder edema

- Helps to maintain optimal skin condition for udders producing a high volume of milk

Great for use before and after calving

- Formulated to assist cows with their own self-defense mechanism

Absorbed quickly

- Quick absorption leaving no greasy layer or mess

Approved for organic use by multiple U.S. organic certifiers

- Always seek final approval from your local certifier prior to use

Available in two convenient sizes

- Tube with hook can be easily carried or hooked to equipment, aprons, or trousers
- Jug can be mounted in the parlor for easy access and simple dispensing

DIRECTIONS FOR USE

Massage approximately 10 cc (equivalent of one Tablespoon) into each troubled quarter for 30 seconds two-three times per day — or before or after each stripping out. Repeat for 2-4 days. For animal use only.

PRODUCER TESTIMONIALS

"We've used UDDERMINT for several years to soften up udders. We use it on fresh cows and heifers to help with edema. By the next milking, we can see a difference."

Brad Lowry
Penlow Farms
Almonte, Ontario Canada

"I have used UDDERMINT for years after reading about it in Selections newsletter. It helps fresh cows with udder edema. I see a big improvement in just a couple of milkings. UDDERMINT is helpful to us because it requires no milk withdrawal."
